COOLIDGE TO MAKE KENTUCKY A VISIT

Four Governors Are To Be On Board G. O. P. Special.

Kentucky is included in the itinerary of the "Governors' Special" to be run by the Republican National Committee next week thru some of the important "border states" of the North and South.

The special is scheduled to start from Washington Sunday, October 17, passing thru West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Maryland, closing the tour at Baltimore early on the morning of October 24.

A party of forty or more prominent speakers and press representatives will be on the special, which will be made up of one club car, one dining car, two ten-compartment sleepers and one six-compartment observation sleeper.

In the party will be Gov. Calvin Coolidge, of Massachusetts, Republican nominee for Vice President; Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois; Gov. William C. Sproul, of Pennsylvania; Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, of Kentucky; Alf A. Taylor, Republican candidate for governor of Tennessee, and Jacob Hedges, of New York City.

In State Two Days.

Other speakers will be on the special during the two days it is touring Kentucky, some of whom will be left behind at each place to make speeches after the special has gone. Maj. Jackson Morris, Richard P. Ernst, Republican candidate for United States senator and other Kentuckians will be on board.

The tour of Kentucky is scheduled to begin at Mt. Sterling at 8 o'clock next Monday morning and the following cities and towns will be visited the first day: Winchester, Stanton, Torrent, Jackson, Beattyville, Irvine, Richmond, Lancaster, Stanford and Somerset.

On the second and last day, Tuesday, the special will pass thru Mt. Vernon, London, Corbin, Barboursville, Pineville, Harlan, Lynch and Middlesboro, leaving the state at Middlesboro Tuesday night, passing into the border state of Tennessee.

Rear platform speeches will be made at all these stops except at points where the special arrives at night.

It will be the first visit of Governor Coolidge to Kentucky and the mountain people are expected to give him a rousing reception. His visit is in the nature of a return engagement for the visits of Governor Morrow to Massachusetts.

The Montgomery County campaign committee has promised to have 10,000 people at Mt. Sterling next Monday morning to welcome the governor to Kentucky. Other towns along the route have made similar promises, especially the larger towns where longer stops are to be made.

Members of the party will live aboard the train.—Louisville Herald

HARTFORD TO STAGE SCHOOL FAIR OCT. 22

The Hartford Graded and High School is sponsor for a school fair to be staged Friday, October 22, in a one day's meet. A lengthy program embracing a long list of contests and awards has been arranged and promiscuously scattered throughout the County, insuring wide advertisement of the event.

This is the first effort along this line to be put forth by the local school, but judging from the interest manifested in events of like character at other points, as well as the interest shown locally, this first venture, barring accidents, ought to be eminently successful. Events are open to all schools of the County.

MAJORITY WOMAN VOTE OF OHIO FOR HARDING

Washington, Oct. 11—Ohio's woman vote seems to be against Cox. Analysis of reports indicates that the few voters will give the state to Harding. The first striking fact indicated in the woman's straw votes is the large number of women who do not intend to go to the polls. The state supervisor of election has made provision for 800,000 ballots for women. The curt, "I have no intention of voting," written on the thousands returned, show that not half of the 800,000 ballots will be used. In a big straw vote of women who will vote the ratio ran per thousand, 617 for Harding 428 for Cox, a Harding majority of 189. Assuming only 300,000 women will vote the ratio with the indicated male voters preference would give a Republican gain of 103,683, or far above Wilson's majority of 89,408 four years ago. It indicates that the Republican plurality in the state will be about 15,000.

SMALLPOX AGAIN

There is one case of smallpox in Hartford at present.

The citizens here are generally submitting to vaccination, which has been of much advantage. We would suggest again that vaccination is given up to be the best and safest preventive and would advise that in all communities where the disease prevails that it should be carried out.

In some localities in the county we are advised families who have smallpox are not reporting the same. This is strict violation of the law and any one failing to report smallpox in his family is subject to prosecution.

COURT OF APPEALS KILLS SCHOOL LEVY

Graded School Districts Lose Right To Collect Additional Tax By Decision.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 12—The act of the Legislature of 1920 providing for an additional 50-cent levy on each $100 worth of property for graded school purposes was declared unconstitutional today by the Court of Appeals. The decision was made by Appellate Judge Sampson and concurred in by Chief Justice Carroll and Judges Hurt and Settle. There are 254 schools in the state affected by the decision, which was made in the case of the Tompkinsville Graded School District against Jackson.

The Legislature attempted to give the trustees in any graded school district authority to raise an additional levy of 50 cents to the levy of 75 cents which existed when the amendment was offered in the Legislature.

In preparing the amendment to the act a reference was made to Sections 165A of Section 165 of the common school laws of Kentucky, Acts of 1918, Section 4482, Kentucky Statutes.

This reference was an error and referred to sections of accomplishment of common school laws issued by the State Department of Education. The court says that inasmuch as this compilation is not the act of the Legislature and that Section 165 of the Kentucky Statutes does not refer to the common schools, that the act violates Section 51 of the Constitution in that it is misleading and erroneous and therefore invalid.

DR. SAM W. CROWE RETURNS TO COUNTY

First Lieutenant Samuel W. Crowe, of Camp Eustis, Va., who has been serving in the Medical Corps of the United States Army for the past two years, received his honorable discharge October 4, 1920 at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Dr. Crowe, who practiced medicine at Centertown, several years before entering the army, will return to Centertown to resume the practice of his profession. Lt. Crowe has served Uncle Sam at the following places: Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga.; U. S. Army General Hospital, No. 19, Oteer, N. C.; Camp Taylor and Camp Knox, Ky. and Camp Abraham Eustis, Va.

KENTUCKY WILL KEEP HAZELWOOD

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 9—The state of Kentucky will take over and maintain Hazelwood Sanatorium, near Louisville, in a short time. The State Board of Health was notified today by Attorney General Charles I. Dawson that the title is good and the floating debt paid off. It is said the Louisville Red Cross paid the debt of $16,000 leaving only the bonded indebtedness of $22,000 for the state to care for. The General Assembly this year appropriated money for this purpose and directed the purchase.

COX DESERTED BY DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

Governor Too Dictatorial, Big Organization Throws Strength To Harding.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Under the name of the "True Democracy League of Ohio," a powerful section of the Democratic party in Ohio has entered the campaign to oppose the election of Governor Cox to the presidency, and has opened headquarters in the Neil House at Columbus.

The league has just determined to help elect Senator Harding to save the country from Cox, it is six years old, and very early in its career it cast 65,939 votes against Cox and his personal ambitions. It promises to wield a mighty influence this fall.

Here are some of the reasons given by officers of the league for its opposition to Cox:

His administration as governor has been autocratic and dictatorial. He has wanted to be not only governor, but the General Assembly and the Judicial Department as well.

"He has been persistent in his attempts to take power away from the people and vest it in himself and his appointees.

"He secured the passage of a law taking from the people the right to elect school directors, and providing for their appointment.

"He amended the tax law by removing the debt limitations, debts of counties and municipalities have been increased by millions, and the people are having serious trouble to raise money to pay interest charges."

There are many other reasons which the league promises to make public. It ends its statement with these words:

"These reasons warrant our appeal to voters of the United States to support Senator Harding for the presidency."

ATTEND CONGRESS IN ST. LOUIS, MO.

Messrs. C. P. Austin, of Beaver Dam, James H. Williams and son, George Dudley, of this place, left yesterday for St. Louis, Mo., where they go to attend a Congress of the Deputies of Christ. The Congress is expected to be in session a week or more and altogether they will be in the Missouri City about ten days.

HARTFORD BAPTISTS TO HAVE REVIVAL

The public is cordially invited to attend the services of our evangelistic campaign, beginning October 22nd at 7 p. m.

This meeting will be conducted by Evangelist T. T. Martin and his co-worker, Bro. Couch. Bro. Couch will arrive Friday 22nd, and will take full charge of services till Bro. Martin arrives. Bro. Couch is an excellent preacher and gospel singer. Bro. Martin is the greatest evangelist in the Southern Baptist Convention.

Let us have your presence, your prayers and your full co-operation in this soul-winning campaign.

MRS. HASWELL DOES CREDIT TO CAUSE

Delivers Splendid Address Here, Tour Of County Bearing Fruit To G. O. P.

Mrs. John P. Haswell, in so far as Hartford is concerned, broke the ice here Monday in the first political address ever delivered by a lady. While the attendance was considered small it was intensely interested, as manifested by the close attention given her. The speaker, who was introduced by County Attorney, A. D. Kirk, prefaced her address by citing a few of the reasons for her affiliation with the Republican Party, chief among them being that Party's general advanced position and interest in the matter of education, child labor laws and championship of statutes protecting children, women and the home. These she held and showed, were sufficient, when properly analyzed to attract the new voters, the women, to the Republican Party, but to these was added the most vital and stupendous question that had confronted this Nation since the days of the civil war, that of the approval or rejection of the League of Nations as now written. She discussed in an impassioned manner, the sections most dangerous to the United States, those that morally bind this Country to take every mothers son, fit for military duty, to Europe or elsewhere and whenever the League Council or governing authority might so decide and demand. The inequality of representation was also assailed, she showed how the smallest Nation signatory to the covenant was equal to the United States in voting power and how that Great Britain with her Colonies had six times the voting power of this Nation. She strongly objected to and produced splendid argument against the United States standing sponsor with her best blood and treasure for the boundary lines and political integrity of the various Nations parties to the covenant. The speaker stressed the fact that a certain class were holding, or saying that only by explicit action of Congress could the Nation's sons be called to war, but while that might technically be true, yet when we become a party to the League that it is an agreed contract and as morally binding as possible to bind and that no honest person or nation would or could consider their bond more binding than their word and that action of Congress would be only a mere matter of form, and compliance with the edicts of the League authorities our bounden duty from which the Country could and would not escape. In short her point was that the best way out was to remain free and not go in.

Mrs. Haswell has been having good audiences at all of her appointments and much interest has been shown at all points. She will complete her tour tomorrow afternoon at Fordsville.

GOVERNOR COX PASSES THROUGH OHIO COUNTY

The special train bearing Governor James M. Cox passed through Ohio

County last Friday on schedule time, making a short stop at Beaver Dam, where according to estimates somewhere near 2,000 had gathered to meet the Democratic candidate for President. He spoke only about four minutes, from the rear end of his private coach, which bore quite a number of notable Democrats. The special also made a short stop at Horse Branch, where he also spoke about the same length of time to a much smaller audience who had gathered to see the candidate.

This is the first time in the history of the County where a candidate for President has been seen on a speaking tour within her confines.

PIONEER DEMOCRAT, WOMAN BOLTS COX

Chicago, Oct. —Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby, one of the pioneer Democratic leaders among New York women, today announced that she has bolted the Cox ticket and will help elect Harding. She has been welcomed as a leader of Democratic women who cannot support Cox and his war league and has been elected president of the Harding and Wadsworth League of Democratic women voters. "I am a Democrat," said Mrs. Crosby, "but I shall work for Harding. Women can not afford to support what Cox stands for."

OHIO COUNTY BOY SUPPORTS HARDING

Opposed To Democratic Methods And One-Man Rule.

Mr. Jesse H. Barnes, for some time past a resident of New Philadelphia, Ohio, a former Hartford and Ohio County boy who was reared a Democrat, in a letter to the Editor of this paper gives some of his reasons for lining up behind Harding for President. By his consent we publish the communication:

Editor Republican: So many Democratic voters have asked me why I am for Harding—just because I have had my fill of the Democratic party. Mr. Palmer who promised to reduce the cost of living has conspicuously failed. In the State of Ohio we had to thumb out 32 cents for a pound of sugar and $6.00 to $7.00 for a bushel of potatoes. I wonder if the citizens in my old home state of Kentucky had to pay such exorbitant prices, if they did I wonder if the voters thought the cost of living had been reduced.

It's time for a change and I thank God it is near as it is. I want to see Senator Harding elected because he is a self-made man, simple in his life, earnest, sincere and human. Best loved and thought of when best known. I like Harding because he dodges nothing and stands like a stone wall for America's rights. He is a Republican regular, supports what his party stands for, acts with and is submissive to the will of the majority, and under him there will be no one-man rule in Washington.

Yours truly,
J. H. BARNES,

FORDSVILLE SCHOOL EXHIBIT ON TODAY

Number of Schools Taking Part Insures Success Of The Fair In Two Days' Meet.

The enterprising people of Fordsville and vicinity, under auspices of the Fordsville High School, have completed arrangements by which they begin a two days' school fair at Fordsville, today. Contests in educational, industrial and athletic lines are numerous, and in as much as so many rural schools have joined the enterprise keen and interesting competitions are most certain to be much in evidence.

The school fair is no new thing for Fordsville, as that community has staged an exhibition of this character during the past three years, if memory serves the writer correctly, and each has been a success.

The bringing of so many pupils and others together in friendly and neighborly competition is of value rather hard to estimate, ambition to secure a coveted prize not merely for the intrinsic value of the premium offered, but because it denotes recognition of individual worth, merit, and effort, if you please.

BOLSHEVIK-POLISH TREATY TO END WAR

Signed Pact Effective At Mid-night Next Monday.

Riga, Oct. 12—A preliminary peace treaty and armistice was signed by the Polish and Russian Soviet peace delegates here at 7:10 o'clock tonight. The armistice actually becomes effective at midnight October 18, that is, 144 hours from midnight tonight.

The announcement that the peace treaty was to be signed brought great crowds to the square surrounding the Blackhead House. M. Joffe and the Bolshevik delegation entered the hall first, and were followed by M. Domb-ski and the Polish delegation. About 200 persons, including the entire diplomatic body, and prominent Lettish officials crowded the small room, many of them standing.

Considerable delay ensued, which was due to the physical work necessary for the completion of the treaties for signature. Tired by more than five days and nights of almost constant work, M. Joffe looked extremely pale, but his voice showed no nervousness when he announced without rising that the treaty had been completed and began regarding the Russian text.

The head of the Soviet delegation described the Riga peace as "a peace without victory and without vanquished" in a brief address before the signature of the treaty. That describes the Riga agreement accurately as it appeared to disinterested onlookers. It was a peace of give and take, which those who have followed the course of events fear will not be very popular either with the Bolsheviks or the Poles.

But it undoubtedly is a triumph for the two champions who made it, and the spirit of conciliation with which they handled the explosive questions that disrupted the Minsk conference is likely to win for them the gratitude of a war-exhausted world.

The Riga armistice will put the Bolsheviks at peace with all their Baltic neighbors within 144 hours from midnight tonight and leave the Wrangel movement as the only great military operation against the Soviets.

M. Joffe called attention to the many difficulties encountered in arranging the armistice and also to the harmonious manner in which the delegations carried out the negotiations. He also expressed the belief that the foundation has been laid for a permanent peace, as both nations are absolutely tired of war and unwilling to assume responsibility for continuing the strife.

FIRE DESTROYS PROPERTY

During the night of last Thursday fire destroyed the brick residence adjacent to Beaver Dam, known as the Sowers place, by the very old resident perhaps it was known as the Dr. Coleman residence, it having been erected some fifty years ago by the late Dr. J. S. Coleman. For a considerable period the burned property was decidedly the most valuable residence within Ohio County.

Fire also destroyed two residences in Rockport last week, that of Clarence Duvall and E. P. Chinn, the latter's dwelling was burned because of the nearness of the Duvall property.

WILSON A DICTATOR SAYS EX-PRESIDENT

Jealousy Of Power Narrow Partisanship Cause Of Failure

Washington, October 11.—Executive usurpation under President Wilson is portrayed by former President William H. Taft in a statement in which he declares that the war with Germany was won in spite of the present Chief Executive. He says:

"Presidential elections usually present as the chief issue a vote of confidence or a want of it in the administration just retiring. This year the main issue is and must be the approval or the disapproval of Mr. Wilson's policies. In such an issue the personal equation of Mr. Wilson is the chief factor. Only by understanding that can one understand what his administration did and did not do.

"No man since the time of Jackson has made himself so completely the sole representative of his party as Mr. Wilson. He came into power in 1913, largely because the opposing party was split. He was a minority President. The Republicans had been in office for sixteen years. The number of appointments to be made by him was greater than at any time in the country's history. He was Jacksonian in distribution of his patronage. Twenty-five hundred nominations of his predecessor had been suspended by a Democratic majority in the Senate for the purpose of starting his administration well. All these circumstances created great cohesion in the party and vested the head of the administration with unusual power and prestige.

"Mr. Wilson is a man who thinks much of his power and is jealous of an attempt to weaken it. His administration is full of instances in which he has sought to end the official lives of Congressmen and Senators who would not conform to his ideas of legislative measures and political policy. His lack of hesitation in such cases created a party discipline which added much to his complete command. Although the platform upon which he was first elected declared for a single term, it did not embarrass him with his party in the slightest, and he was nominated for a second term without a question.

"Had the European war not broken out in 1914, it is very probable that the tariff bill for which he was responsible would have so injured the business of the country that he would have been defeated in 1916. The campaign of 1914 because of the effect of the tariff resulted in Republican victories in many States, indicating the strengthening of the Regular Republican organization and the weakening of the Progressive defection. But the enormous demand, caused by the war, for everything produced on the farm, in the mines, and in the factory, and the complete disappearance of competition by European countries created a prosperity which made the threatening hard times of 1914 nothing but a memory, and put the Democratic party on its feet again to fight the battle of 1916. That contest was a close one, but Mr. Wilson won it on the slogan, most effective in the Middle and the Far West, and among the women voters—'He Kept Us Out of War.' Yet within little more than a month after he took office under his second mandate, we had declared war.

"But for our entering the war, Mr. Wilson's control over his party as his second administration wore on would have grown weaker. This is the usual result. But the war required both Democrats and Republicans to give him an arbitrary discretion in the carrying on of colossal transactions, and an amount of patronage staggering to the imagination. He consulted but a very few. Never in the history of the Presidency has there been such seclusion from Congressional and Senatorial conference and association. He neither had, nor sought, that information which comes by absorption through frequent contact with those charged with the co-ordinate legislative branches of the government. When in his opinion he needed legislation to strengthen his hand, he asked for it and he did not brook refusal and crisis made his demand imperative. He did not tolerate argument. He wished to hear no facts inconsistent with the theory of his conclusion. He would have about him only those who agreed in advance.

"The government of the United States is a great business organization, which cannot be carried on by the will of one man. Good executive management requires that the Chief shall select as his main subordinates men in whose ability, judgment, and loyalty he has such confidence that he can entrust to them all his powers in the fields respectively assigned to them, with the sole limitation that, when they think they need his counsel or guidance, they will consult him. Unless he thus delegates his powers, they cannot be exercised efficiently and with needed dispatch. If he holds his chief subordinates in leash so that they are to do nothing important until they consult him, speedy and effective governmental action becomes impossible. Every important decision in which time is the essence of utility and accomplishment must then be delayed until the Chief shall be consulted, shall have an opportunity to ascertain the facts, and make up his mind and decide. It is impossible, even in time of peace, for the Chief Executive to know enough to decide rightly and promptly the multitudinous questions arising in the government. His heads of departments and other principal subordinates must have independent discretion to decide for themselves what he ought to see and what they must finally dispose of without consulting him. In time of war the necessity for such a rule of administration is even more imperative.

"Mr. Wilson's retention of authority was at variance with this sound executive policy. He must hold all the reins. He could not trust any one to act for him. The result was seen in the exasperating delays in the preparations for the war, in the many makeshift devices to put off the necessity for final decision, and in the method by which policies were formed, not by executive leadership, but by pressure of events and public opinion which pushed his administration into them.

"It was the American people, with their enormous capacity for energetic action, who won this war. By appointment of merely advisory committees without any power, to assist his mediocre executive officers, Mr. Wilson thought he could use the men who had made America famous for genius in organization and executive accomplishment. It was the public pressure, arising after many failures and heart-breaking delays, which brought these capable captains of railroads and industries into every zone of governmental activity, and finally led to their securing power enough to do the things which had to be done and to achieve the results of which Americans are so proud. The war was won not thru the leadership of Mr. Wilson, but in spite of the fundamentally wrong principle on which he grudgingly delegated the powers vested in him by the Constitution and by the most liberal war legislation.

"This same purpose to direct personally important action of all kinds explains Mr. Wilson's apparent indifference to the special fitness of many of his appointees to fill the offices for which he chose them. It was only necessary that they should be loyal to him and subscribe to his views to quality them for any place. His reasoning to this end is easy to understand. As he was to decide everything and as each official however high was to do his bidding in everything, loyalty and obedience were the only two essential traits in any officer.

An Agreeable Surprise.

"About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the time night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was surprised at the promptness with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy.

ARMY SEEKS 95,000 RECRUITS

Notwithstanding the claim that all army peace time records were broken in the last three months, an extensive recruiting campaign is being conducted in the newspapers and magazines of the country. About 95,000 recruits are needed and approximately $240,000 will be spent for this publicity work. Following a survey of recruiting conditions it was determined to advertise in publications of the widest circulation. One reason advanced for the difficulty in obtaining men for the army is the fact that when the A. E. F. was in Europe a general order was issued prohibiting privates from associating with army or Red Cross nurses, which privilege, however, was indulged in by officers. It is objected by the men that no "red-blooded" American wishes to feel that he is an outcast. The maximum strength of the army should be 297,000 under present schedule.

AMERICANS IN UNIFORM

BARRED BY SWITZERLAND

The American army at Coblenz has been notified that the Swiss government has withdrawn its permission for American soldiers to enter Switzerland while in uniform. Since the soldiers are not permitted to travel in civilian clothing the action of the government amounts to practical exclusion. It has been the practice of many soldiers on leave to visit Switzerland.

A short time before this action the Swiss federal council decided not to allow the transit of arms and munitions over Swiss territory. The allies wanted to send war supplies to the aid of the Poles but the Swiss are so jealous of their sovereignty and neutrality that they blocked the plan.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. This alone is enough to convince one that it is a medicine of more than ordinary merit. Give it a trial and you will find this to be the case.

G. O. P. SENATORS TO BE ELECTED IN WEST

Washington, Oct. 9.—Senator George Sutherland, who formerly represented Utah in the upper house, has just made a survey of the West from Marion where he returns to be with Senator Harding during the campaign.

Running over a list of the Western states, Senator Sutherland said that Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin will be found in the Republican column. Contests will be waged in Nevada and Utah, with the chances favoring the Republicans. Montana probably will go Democratic, the claims are being made by the Republicans that they will carry that State. In Illinois there is a bad fight between the Lowden and Thompson factions, but while that may have its effect upon the state elections, it will not prevent the Republicans from sweeping the state for Harding and Coolidge, according to Senator Sutherland. In Colorado the Republicans have an excellent chance of winning not only the electoral votes, but also a Senate seat now held by the Democrats.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

C. W. Morgan, Plaintiff.
vs. Notice
A. W. Morgan, Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale entered in the above styled action at the July, 1920 term of the Ohio Circuit Court, directing me to sell the hereinafter described property for the purpose of paying certain bequests made in the will of Isabella Morgan, to-wit, $475.00 to the plaintiff in this action with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from May 7, 1917 until paid, also to T. F. Tanner, et al., the sum of $242.00, with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from May 7, 1917, until paid, and the costs of this action and cost of this sale, I will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder at the court house door in Hartford, Ky., on Monday Nov. 1, 1920, (it being the first day of the regular term of the Ohio County Court), at about the hour of one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described real estate:

A one-fourth interest in a tract of land in Ohio County, Ky., containing 90 acres lying on the waters of Barnett's Creek and bounded on the East by the lands of Milligan Bros., and J. E. Mullican; on the South by the lands of Robert Rowan and Willis Hefflin, on the West by the lands of Ed Charlet and John Price; on the North by the lands of Fred Johnson and Milligan Bros.

Also a one-half interest in 130 acre tract of land lying and being in Ohio County, Ky., on the waters of Barnett's Creek and bounded as follows: Bounded on the East by the lands of Frank Riley; on the West by the lands of James Hinton; on the North by the lands of John Salmon, and on the South by the Livermore and Maxwell public road.

The purchaser will be required to execute bonds immediately after sale with security to be approved by the Commissioner in equal installments, due in six and twelve months, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. Said bonds to have the force and effect of a judgment. A lien will be retained on the land sold to further secure the purchase price.

Given under my hand this 9th day of October, 1920.

DISPUTE OVER GERMAN SHIPS

Diplomatic negotiations are going on between the American and British governments regarding the Imperator and six other former German liners which were allocated to this country to bring our soldiers back from Europe after the war. The allied shipping commission, on which we were not represented, decided that title to the ships should go to Great Britain. Accordingly British crews were sent to New York, where they waited for the release of the vessels by the U. S. shipping board. The United States has never recognized the rulings of the allied commission, but when the matter was referred to resident Wilson the ships were delivered to Great Britain pending decision of ownership. Now Great Britain is making claim for expenditures incurred through idleness of her crews in New York and demurrage charges based on British sailing schedule which had been announced. The shipping board claims that allocation of the ships to this country was permanent.

Chamberlain's Tablets have restored to health and happiness hundreds who were afflicted with indigestion, biliousness and constipation. If you are troubled in this way give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased for they will benefit you.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset.

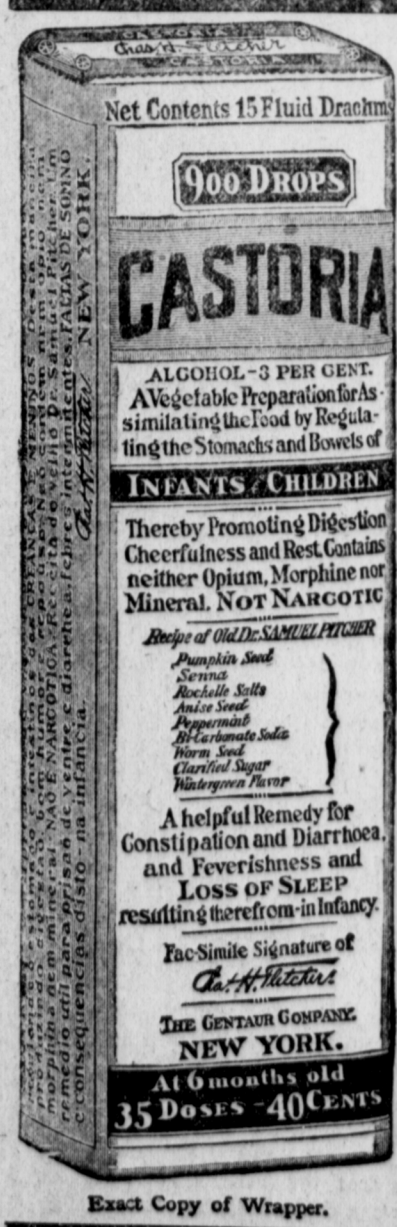

I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it . . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it.

TOLEDO WOMAN HAS GAINED 27 POUNDS

Was Restored To Health 3 Years Ago By Tanlac And Still Feels Fine.

One of the latest to testify to the merits of Tanlac is Mrs. George Kerns, of 719 Western Avenue, Toledo, Ohio, who in a recent statement reported a gain of twenty-seven pounds and said that although it has been three years now since the medicine restored her health and built her up so wonderfully, she is still feeling fine.

"I have the best of reasons," said Mrs. Kerns, "for saying that Tanlac has real merits for it has been three years since it relieved me of my troubles and built me up so wonderfully, and I am still enjoying good health."

"For nearly two years before I took Tanlac I had suffered from stomach trouble and disordered kidneys. My pains, at times, were almost unbearable and while I tried ever so many different kinds of medicine nothing did me any good. I had no appetite scarcely and what little I did manage to eat only made trouble for me. My back and sides pained me constantly and I had fallen off until I was hardly more than a frame."

"When I started on Tanlac I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and just felt perfectly awful. But I had not been taking it very long when I began to feel better and when I got on the scales after finishing my seventh bottle I found I had actually gained 27 pounds, having gone up to one hundred and twenty-five. My stomach and kidneys have never troubled me in the least since that time. In fact, I have enjoyed the best of health all the while. My husband and little son have been complaining of being run down and no appetite this winter, but after taking Tanlac the results are they are both wonderfully improved. It just seems that my son can't get enough to eat and is simply bubbling over with new life and energy. We all think there is no medicine like Tanlac. It has been such a great benefit to the whole family that I never expect to be without a bottle in the house."

Tanlac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean, in Horse Branch by Olanton Drug Co., in Rockport by James Browning, in Cromwell by Wallace & Porter, in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr., and in McHenry, by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

BLUE GRASS LAND
PRICES ON DECLINE

Paris, Ky., Oct. 9.—A feeling of uneasiness is prevailing here among farmers and others who during the past two years have paid high values for farming lands and are now trying to dispose of their holdings. It is evident that the peak of high prices has been reached and that the prices for land is now rapidly declining.

The J. P. Millett farm of 219 acres which was purchased about two years ago by Newton Bishop from J. M. Alverson for $405 per acre, was offered at public sale this afternoon, and withdrawn after the bidding had reached $280 and stopped there. Friday, the 322-acre farm of Mrs. John J. McClintock was offered for sale and was withdrawn, the highest bidder offering only $215 per acre. The highest price for which Bourbon County land could be rented today was $7.50 per acre.

Many attributed the decline to the bad condition of the present tobacco crop and the slump in prices in other tobacco markets, which it is thought will have a depressing effect here.

Constipation.
The beginning of almost every serious disorder is constipation. If you want to enjoy good health keep your bowels regular. This is best accomplished by proper diet and exercise, but sometimes a medicine is needed and when that is the case you will find Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action, easy and pleasant to take. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

CANDLE SHOT THRU WOOD MARVEL OF HIGH SPEED

London, Oct. 9.—Thoughts of the boxing ring are aroused by the title "The Laws of High Speed Punching," which belongs to a paper prepared by Captain Tresidder, for the British War Office. It deals however, with a more formidable kind of struggle, as it investigates what happens when a projectile pierces armor plating.

More than a military interest attaches to this question, as Captain Tresidder has found that the laws which apply to a shell going thru armor plate are the same as those concerned in the ordinary engineering process of punching holes. The extraordinary interest of this problem is suggested by the fact that a candle fired like a bullet will go right thru a wooden board without changing shape.

Another striking fact is that a 12-inch plate must exert 60,000,000 horse power in order to stop a 15-inch shell at a range of ten miles. This enormous power is exerted only for one five-hundredth of a second, but in that short space the plate does more than a thirty-three horse power engine can do in an hour. Many results of great scientific and engineering interest have been attained by the author of this paper, who has worked out an entirely new theory of what happens when a projectile drives a hole thru solid steel.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Ohio Circuit Court.
Annie E. Hill, et al., Plaintiffs.
vs. Notice of sale.

Irene Maddox Jones, et al., Defendant.
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court rendered at its September term, 1920, in the above styled action, directing me as Commissioner of said court to sell the hereinafter described land for the purpose of paying the cost of the above styled action and the cost of this sale, and dividing the balance of the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto as their respective interests may appear, I will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder at the court house door in Hartford, Ohio County, Ky., on Monday, November 1st, 1920, (it being the first day of the regular November term of the Ohio County Court) at about the hour of one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six and twelve months, the following described real estate:

Beginning at a stone the S. E. corner of lot No. 1, known as the Sarah Maddox land deeded to her by Robert Southard; thence east 3 poles to a stone on the North side of the Hartford and Rockport road and the N. E. corner of the Dave Shively's lot; thence N. 66 E. 13 poles with the Hartford and Rockport road; thence N. 72 E. 18 poles with said road; thence N. 72 E. 28 poles to a stone on the North side of said road; thence N. 126 poles to the South bank of the Louis Creek to one beech and sweet gum; thence down said creek with its meanderings to a stone, N. E. corner of lot No. 1 of Robert Southard's land; thence S. 102 poles to the beginning excepting however from said boundary of land a small portion thereof sold by E. Harrison Maddox to Oscar Wade on April 22, 1905, a small portion thereof sold by E. Harrison Maddox to George H. Bennett on May 28, 1906; and a portion thereof sold by E. Harrison Maddox to Flora Bratcher, November 25, 1908, leaving approximately thirty acres of said boundary of the land owned and held by said plaintiffs and defendants.

The purchaser will be required to execute bonds immediately after sale with security to be approved by the commissioner, to have the force and effect of a judgment, payable in six and twelve months, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from date until paid. A lien will be retained on the land sold to further secure the payment of said bonds.

Given under my hand this the 6th day of OCTOBER, 1920.

GAS TOOK LARGE WAR TOLL

It is stated by the war department that gas disabled 99,000 American soldiers, which was greater than any other single agency employed in the war. Comparatively few gas cases brought to the hospitals for treatment were fatal. Gunshot wounds accounted for 85,000 shrapnel 40,000, rifle balls 23,000, shells 21,000, handgrenades 1,200, pistol balls 257, bayonets 245, falling objects 193, aerial bombs 150, cutting and piercing instruments 146, airplanes 88, crushing 85, saber 14. The total number of men sent to hospitals was about 266,000.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Ohio Circuit Court.
H. A. Baird, et al. On Petition.
vs. Notice of sale.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court, entered at its September, 1920 term, in the above styled action, directing me as Master Commissioner of the Ohio Circuit Court, to sell the hereinafter described land for the purpose of paying the costs of this action together with the cost of this sale, and dividing the balance of the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto as their respective interests may appear, I will offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder at the court house door in Hartford, Ohio County, Kentucky, on Monday, November 1st 1920, (it being the first day of the regular November term of the Ohio County Court), at about the hour of one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six and twelve months the following described real estate, lying and being in Ohio County, Ky., and bounded as follows:

FORDSON

TRADE MARK

Farm Tractor

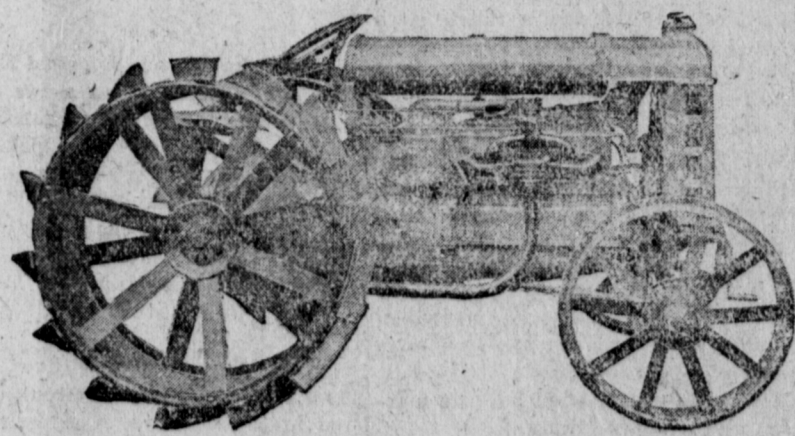

The Fordson Tractor was made to meet the demands and necessities of the everyday American farmer. It was made with the thought that it was the necessity of the man of forty acres as well as the man with one thousand acres. It was made not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, drilling, seeding, mowing, reaping, but for all other work on the farm where power is necessary. It was made to bring conveniences to the farmer's home as well as for the cultivation of his fields. It was made to furnish power for the cream separator, silo filling, cutting feed, sawing wood, furnishing power for milking, washing, supplying the house with running water, electric lights, and the hundred and one things on the farm. It was made to do all this economically and in a reliable way. It was made to be the big profitable servant on the farm.

And it has not failed in any of the expectations had for it. It has been tested as no other tractor has been tested. It has been proven reliable and can furnish proofs impossible to any other Tractor. It has done these things not only in America, but in Europe, Asia, Africa, and in the Islands of the Seas. It has met successfully the demands of farmers in every part of the civilized world.

Therefore, the Fordson Tractor can meet all the conditions of your farm. When you buy a Fordson, you are not buying any experiment—you are buying a servant and a money-maker for you that you can depend upon absolutely from the first day you put it to work. It is easy to understand. It possesses all the power you want. It is more flexible than you imagine. It will help you cultivate every foot of ground you have, and every day in the year you will find use for it on the farm. Its appeal to the farmer is in its dependable service and the wide variety of work it can do.

We'd like every farmer that reads this, if he hasn't a Fordson Tractor already, to come to us and let us sell him one. Let us demonstrate its powers, its values, on your own farm. Let's get into details—power, reliability, economy. While the sale of a Tractor gives us a small profit, the purchase of a Tractor to the farmer means a money-making servant every day for years. So the sale of a Fordson means more to the purchaser than it does to us. We are arguing for your good, Mr. Farmer. Come in and talk it over. Your time against ours. It is worth it.

And remember, when you buy a Fordson Tractor, we are right here to keep that Tractor in reliable running condition every day. You won't have to wait if anything should get out of order. We are right here to keep it right, because one of the conditions of the Fordson Dealer is that he must keep on hand always a complete supply of parts. This is a guarantee we don't believe you can get with any other farm Tractor. Come in. Let's talk it over.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President—
WARREN G. HARDING.
For Vice President—
CALVIN COOLIDGE.
For U. S. Senator—
RICHARD P. ERNST.
For Congress—
JOHN P. HASWELL, JR.

Mothers and fathers who do not wish to pledge their sons as hostage for the meats and bounds of almost every political division of Europe, Asia and Africa, should prepare to register their disapproval of Cox and the League of foreign Nations on November second.

Evidently Kentucky is deemed a worthwhile State by the Political Powers that be, or else she would not be so earnestly courted by the candidates of the two leading parties, to say nothing of the candidates for second place and the host of other celebrities who have and are to visit the Dark and Bloody Ground 'twixt this date and November 2.

Proponents of the League of Nations on the stump and elsewhere, loudly proclaim that the adoption of the League does away with all armaments, no further need for implements of warfare, and in the face of all of that, Wilson, Baker and Daniels have repeatedly asked Congress for the largest standing army and a navy bigger than anyone in this Country ever thought of maintaining.
Why the whereforeness of it all?

We notice cards in some of the windows about town bearing besides the pictures of Cox and Roosevelt, these words "The Election of Cox and Roosevelt means Peace, Progress and Prosperity." We timidly suggest that in order to make it appear more complete and impressive that the likeness of Harding with a skull and crossed bones be placed at the bottom of the card and that the whole be surrounded by a border for a frame composed of the words, in letters of heavy black, "HE KEPT US OUT OF WAR, VOTE FOR WILSON AND PEACE."

Mrs. Haswell's address delivered at the Court house Monday was a gem in thought and otherwise. Her discussion of the League of Nations and her reason for associating herself with the Republican party in the present election were as clear and concise as possible to make. It is the more regrettable that she did not have a packed house, as the character of speech made was intensely interesting and educative. It was a plain talk upon plain questions, matters of policy, affecting all, the home as well as the public, convincingly delivered.

Governor Cox appears to be long and strong on belittling those who differ with him. Those who oppose his election by word and deed he most generally classes as ignorant or crooks. He outdoes Wilson when it comes to intolerance and utter disregard for the other fellow's opinion.
There is little room for wonder at the fact that the organization known as the "True Democracy League of Ohio" composed of 65,000 to 70,000 Democrats, has decided to throw its full strength to Senator Harding. They take this action as they say, because Cox is too autocratic and dictatorial.

Democratic papers, spellbinders and others are saying great things of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Sr., soft words and mountains of praise they have for the deceased Ex-President, but for Theodore, Jr., they have nothing but abuse and vile epithets.
The younger Roosevelt volunteered his services and fought for the Stars and Stripes and suffered serious wounds at the hands of the Huns. He is highly educated, while a young man, yet a man of affairs, brim-full of action and intensely patriotic and withall conscientiously and unalterably opposed to the League of Nations and the election of Cox and the other Roosevelt. The latter fact is answer and excuse sufficient for the bitter attacks and denunciation from the Democratic press, Cox et al.

Our Contemporary carried a short item on the Roosevelt-Morrow speaking at this place, in which it said that school dismissed for the occasion and the pupils, with a scattering attendance of citizens from various parts of the County made up the audience. The inference would naturally be that the number of pupils predominated. The same paper in speaking of the five minute speech of Governor Cox at Beaver Dam last Friday says: "When the train bearing James M. Cox arrived in Beaver Dam last Friday afternoon the Governor was greeted by the cheering of thousands etc." It is our information that both the Hartford and Beaver Dam Schools dismissed, that the pupils might be present at Beaver Dam. In our report of the attendance here, at the speaking above referred to, we took the estimate placed on the size of the audience, by two reputable Democrats, one of whom stated that four thousand would be more conservative than 2-500, the number we gave. Of course, it makes no difference, only news is news, just like "pigs is pigs."

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

What will we do now for a new Bat to bat on? ...

Doc Dockery said that tater weighed four pounds. We were too proud of Doc and the tater to weigh after him. ...

Billie Schapmire says he and Kaiser Rial had a contest and a bet up a while back as to who could remain in a room the longest with a pole cat.
Bill says he stood it as long as possible, couldn't stomach 'em any longer and left Rial and the skunk alone, but Bill swears that it was no time before that blame cat gave it up and left too, and Rial won. ...

Squire Ben Rice is authority for the statement that while circuit court was in session here, a screech owl found its way into the Court house and alighted on the stove pipe near the jury box and witness stand, and that the owl became engrossed with watching the jury and witnesses. But Ben swears that when Clem Moxley took the witness stand the owl couldn't stand it and with deliberation turned his back upon the witness chair and never again looked that way until Uncle Clem's voice had completely hushed. ...

We imagine that most women worst themselves when they wed, of course not all do so, but we refer to the great majority. Men are most always better off when married to a good woman. We have in mind a dazzling and shining example right here in Hartford, we can't, as a matter of course, call names, but this fellow we have in mind is nothing like as tough looking and the hard old bat he used to be. ...

I am certainly a catch-all when it comes to gathering up bad luck.
For instance, the fire alarm was sounded Tuesday a. m., after I had gotten to the office, and had started working. Had my coat off, sleeves rolled up, collar and tie off, hands all dirty and hair mussed up. Before I could comb my locks, wash up, put on the neck wear and get to the place of fire, the dagdummed stuff was all extinguished, not even a bit of smoke could be seen. It never burns any after I get there. ...

J. I. Goodman says John Henry

Thomas and Tom Stevens, of Central City, have been trying to induce him to join some sort of an organization which they are daddying and originating. Goodman says there is nothing doing because he knows full well that John and Tom would have nothing to do with any newfangled society that did not have for its chief working tools a few feet of coiled copper wire attached to a boiling apparatus.
Besides J. I. avers that he is on the verge of turning his attention to some branch of the ministry, and therefore much desirous of avoiding all entangling alliances with evil associations.

IMPORTANT EVENTS FINALLY SETTLED

The Champion Base Ball Team And Race Horse Of America
Tagged This Week.

The two most important events of the year 1920, from a sporting standpoint, were settled during the present week. Cleveland, the runner-up in the American Association of base ball, completely vanquished the Brooklyn Nationals, champions of that league.

The first three of the series of nine games were played in the Dodger's home Park and resulted in a win of two to one for the Nationals. The teams then moved to Cleveland for four games, the last of which was played Tuesday and the Cleveland Indians did the mopping up stunt in fine style, taking the entire home series, making it unnecessary to play the remaining two games, as only five wins were needed to determine the World's championship.

Coveleskie a big brainy Polander, with terrific speed, curves, drops and most everything else, found in the science of base ball pitching, stood out as the most brilliant star of the battle just closed for universal championship in the greatest athletic sport indulged in by this or any other Country. The big Pole went the whole route in three games, allowing the opposition the measly sum of two scores in the 27 innings he fed them his various sorts of crooked slants. Only two of the Trolley-Dodgers connected with the second cushion in the last game played. In addition to better pitching, better batting and base running the Indians also got the assistance of the tenth figure in their games, "Old Man Luck" was nearly always present and he fought shy of Dodger uniforms.

The other big event of the week was in and of the Turf World, the sport of Kings. Man O' War, a three year old thoroughbred, acknowledged and proven to be the best of his kind within the United States, was pitted against Sir Barton, a four year old and the acknowledged king of speedsters of all the horses in the Dominion of Canada. This contest was settled Tuesday on Kenilworth Course, in Windsor, Canada, which is adjacent to Detroit, Mich. The race was one and one-fourth mile and the purse for the winner was the tidy little sum of $75,000, besides a trophy valued at $5,000 all added to the unvaluable satisfaction of possessing the fleetest bundle of horse flesh in America, and perhaps in all the world. Both of the contesting horses were bred and born near Lexington, this State, each having been sold before training commenced. Sam D. Riddle, of Pa., being the owner of Man O' War, while Commander J. K.

L. Ross of Canada owns Sir Barton, the candidate for world's honors, defeated by eight lengths.

Even to the Tiniest Leak

YOU can't afford to let any of that golden cream escape in the milk. If you know where the leak is you are going to stop it. We can show you how the Primrose stops the tiniest leak.

The Primrose Cream Separator skims clean—to the very last drop. It is simplicity itself in operation. The Primrose is the only cream separator which doesn't obstruct the cream outlets in the bowl with a cream screw.

Running quickly over a few of the other high spots—substantial supply can, heavy tinware, close-skimming bowl, highest grade material, simple driving mechanism, all parts oiled by splash from supply in gear case, sanitary frame.

There are several exclusive features whose values are obvious on a demonstration. We want to explain every one, and show how they all tend to save that valuable cream to the last valuable drop.

You are in the dairy business to make money. You need the warm skim milk for feeding. Let the Primrose help you. The size of your herd in no way affects the ratio of profit. The Primrose saves on the gallon—you can figure out your profits.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

In 1920, 6,000 acres of flax were cultivated in the United States, as against 5,000 acres in 1919, the United States Department of Agriculture estimates. Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, and the Willamette Valley of Oregon lead in production. The 1920 crop is valued at $1,500,000.

Results of investigations and preventive measures against grain-dust explosions, which cost 80 lives and $7,000,000 property damage in 1919, are contained in a new book being distributed by the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Carcaria caused $2,000,000 damage to the peach crop of one southern State in 1920. The insect lives in the foliage several months beyond the fruit season and the United States Department of Agriculture is experimenting with a new method of fall extermination.

Muskrat farming has given formerly worthless Maryland marshland a value of $30 to $40 an acre, the United States Department of Agriculture finds. In addition to the hides the carcasses are sold at 25 to 30 cents apiece for meat. They are considered a delicacy in some hotels.

Sweet potatoes make a superior table and cooking syrup, say chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Thus far no large commercial use has been made of the discovery. The department is prepared to tell how to make sweet-potato sirup at home and how to use it in cookery and candy making.

Out of 753 farmers owning motor trucks in 11 eastern States who answered a recent query of the United States Department of Agriculture 95 per cent said they believed the use of trucks would show a profit. Preference leaned toward a 1-ton truck. Bad roads were the principal drawback.

Tactful Handling Of Skunk Makes Him Valuable On Farm.

Few persons have seriously considered establishing friendly relations with a skunk. It has been done in some cases under the misapprehension that the animal was a cat, and the results have been unpleasant. But the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture has investigated the skunk and found him to be the best wild-animal friend the farmer has.

Almost any farmer might have 2 or 3 dozen skunks at work for him destroying mice, grasshoppers, crickets, and white grubs, and furnishing him from $50 to $100 worth of fur a year. All that is necessary is that he respect their dens, keep his poultry in skunkproof yards, kill an old horse for them every fall, and be tactful when he meets them in the evening. There is a marked depression of the fur market at present, but recovery to normal is anticipated.

It has been estimated that a year's catch of skunks in New York State is worth $1,000,000. Only one-fifth of them are black or short striped. If all were of this higher grade, they would be worth $3,000,000. The department suggests that a preserve stocked with black skunks would eventually double or treble the catch of skunks in the territory surrounding it.

Here's a Good Recipe For Making Cider Apple Sauce.

When the apple crop is abundant and a large quantity of cider is obtainable the housekeeper will find it to her advantage to put up a large amount of boiled cider. It greatly improves the flavor of mince-meat, and can be used at any time of the year to make cider apple sauce.

Cider for boiling must be perfectly fresh and sweet. Put it in a large, open preserving kettle and boil until reduced one-half. Skim frequently while boiling. Do not have the kettle more than two-thirds full. When the cider has boiled until it is fairly thick, put in bottles, cans, or stone jars which have been thoroughly boiled.

Cider Apple Sauce.

Put eight quarts of pared, quartered, and cored sweet apples in a large preserving kettle and cover with five quarts of boiled cider. Cook slowly until the apples are tender and clear. To prevent burning of the apples place the kettle on an asbestos mat. It will require from two to three hours to cook the apples. If you find it necessary to stir the sauce be very careful to break the apples as little as possible. When the sauce is cooked put it in sterilized jars.

In the late spring, when apples have lost much of their flavor and acidity an appetizing sauce can be made with diluted boiled cider, using one cup of cider to three of water.

Cooking pears may be preserved in boiled cider the same as sweet apples. To make the sauce less sour, one pound of sugar is added to each quart of boiled cider.

True economy in the preparation of meals for the family lies not only in buying wisely but also in making the fullest possible use of what is bought.

Lime Improves Most Soils For Bluegrass and Clover.

Lime in some form improves most soils for bluegrass and white clover, and unless soils are already well supplied with lime it should be added at the rate of not less than 100 pounds per thousands square feet. The application should be made considerably in advance of seeding time. Applications of lime are of very doubtful value for the best grasses or the fescues unless the soils are very acid or contain large quantities of poorly rotted organic matter.

Preliminary preparation, by which is meant the thorough stirring of the surface foot of soil, should begin several weeks prior to seeding to allow sufficient time for the ground to become thoroughly settled and for the weed seeds to germinate.

Information concerning the making and maintaining of a lawn is contained in Department Circular, 49, issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Copies may be had upon application to the department at Washington, D. C.

American farmers planted 14,000 acres to hemp in 1920, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The crop is valued at about $1,500,000.

Leave a hollow tree for the raccoon and keep poaching hunters out of your woods, the United States Department of Agriculture advises in a recent circular. The fur crop ought to yield you a tidy sum every year.

Wild ducks can be successfully propagated in many marshy localities. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a new circular telling the most practicable breeds and how to handle them.

Skunks yielded $1,000,000 worth of hides to New York State farmers and trappers in one year. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in a new circular on the fur industry, gives suggestions for making this supposed pest into a profitable friend of the farmer.

Maude Crowe, et al., Plaintiffs.
vs.
Notice of Sale.
Nellie Crowe Truman, et al., Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Ohio Circuit Court entered in the above styled action at its September term, 1920, directing me as Master Commissioner of said court to sell the hereinafter described real estate for the purpose of paying the costs of the above styled action together with the balance of the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto as their respective interests may appear, I will offer for sale at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder at the Court House door in Hartford, Ohio County, Ky., on Monday, November 1st, 1920 (It being the first day of the regular November term of the Ohio County Court) at about the hour of one o'clock p. m., upon a credit of six months the following described real estate lying and being in Ohio County, Ky., bounded as follows: Two tracts or parcels of land in Ohio County, Kentucky, bounded as follows:

1st tract: Beginning at a stone in Henderson Whittier's line, and corner to lot No. 3; thence west 138 poles to a hickory, Wm. C. Truman's corner; thence with his line S. 66 poles to three black oaks; thence S. 43 E. 42 poles to a stone, E. 110 poles to two white oaks, corner to lot No. 3; thence North to the beginning.

Being same land conveyed to H. C. Crowe, by John Whittier, et al., on the 3rd day of March, 1902, which deed is of record in deed book No. 60, page 173, Ohio County Clerk's office.

2nd tract: Beginning at a stone in the Fordville and S. Gillespie road corner to the Whittier homestead tract; thence with a line of same S. 10 W. 73 poles to a white oak and black oak, corner homestead in Whittier's line; thence West in a straight line 64 poles to a stone, corner W. C. Truman; thence N. with Truman's line to the road; thence with the Fordville and Gillespie road to the beginning, containing 30 acres more or less. This is a part of the old Henderson Whittier tract of land which was conveyed to J. W. McCarty by R. Holbrook Commissioner, August 13, 1900, and which land was conveyed to H. C. Crowe, by J. W. McCarty and wife on Feb. 2nd, 1903, which deed is of record in deed book 59, page 573, Ohio County Clerk's office.

The purchaser will be required to execute bond immediately after sale with security to be approved by the Commissioner to have the force and effect of a judgment, payable in six months, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from date until paid. A lien will be retained on the land sold to further secure the payment of said bond.

Given under my hand, this 6th day of October, 1920.

BAKER APPEALS FOR RESERVE OFFICERS

In an address before the students of Pennsylvania State college recently, Secretary of War Baker appealed to the college students of the country to enter into advanced military training and study through the reserve officers training corps. He said that 5,000 probably would be the maximum annual output of the training corps. The greatest problem before the war department, during the world war, he said, was to get sufficient adequately trained men to fill the commissioned ranks in the lower grades. To meet a similar situation in case of future emergency the present reserve officers plan was designed.

Electric Bitters
Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weakness they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified. FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE it is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

50 Years Ago
A young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce who afterward moved to Buffalo, N. Y. He made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and he put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union. For fifty years Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to. It is now sold by druggists in tablet form as well as liquid.

NEWBERRY, S. C.—"After using Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription I feel like a new woman. My friends all tell me I look so much better. I am more than pleased with the result. I know that I can't praise any one of Dr. Pierce's remedies too highly. I always keep them on hand in order to keep well."—Miss LELLA SUPER, Route 1—Box 65.

U. S. WOULD HAVE NO VOICE IN ITS OWN AFFAIRS IN LEAGUE, SAYS PROMINENT KY. LAWYER

W. W. Watts, leading Kentucky lawyer and one of the most prominent students of the peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant, says of this country's right to vote in case she should join the League:

"Speakers have told their audiences that in Article 5 of the Covenant a unanimous decision is required to go to war and the United States could keep out of the war by its disagreement and breaking the unanimity. They did not refer to the qualification of that unanimity in that same paragraph in the words at its beginning, 'Except as hereinafter provided,' nor did they then refer back to Article 15 to say what qualification is, nor to say that in a dispute between two nations, as, for instance, United States and Japan, neither would have a vote.

"Only recently a dispute arose between a well-known newspaper man and a very prominent minister of the gospel as to whether in event of a dispute between those two nations, to be decided by the League, whether the United States or Japan would have a vote. They referred the dispute to me and I decided 'most positively not.'

"The fact that I decided the question is not material, but the fact that that minister whose words are listened to by his people has been saying that under such circumstances the United States would have a vote, when he could have analyzed and found it expressly denied by the Covenant is of immense concern. He was evidently in good faith, but how will he or his followers feel when the analysis does come? No, the United States will have no vote in decisions where most needed."

Louisville.—A statement just issued here shows that the Democratic Party, since it came into power in 1913, has made the farmers of this country the victims of its carelessness.

The Republicans have promised in their National platform to put "an end to unnecessary price fixing and ill-considered efforts arbitrarily to reduce prices of farm products which invariably result to the disadvantage both of producer and consumer." The Democrats were asked to make this same pledge but refused.

Do you remember what happened when we got in the war? Do you remember the President's definition of a "just price?" He said:

"By a just price I mean a price which will sustain the industries concerned in a high state of efficiency, provide a living for those who conduct them, enable them to pay good wages, and make possible the expansion of their enterprise," etc.

And then do you remember what happened? Government contracts of all kinds were let on a cost-plus basis. That is, the manufacturer was allowed to figure all of the cost of every kind which he incurred (and he was not restricted in his expense), and in addition was allowed to figure a handsome percentage on top of all his expense and fix his price to cover everything.

Was He?

Was the farmer allowed that "just price" which was granted so freely to others? He was not. Prices on some of his products were absolutely fixed, and without investigation of the cost of production. One prominent member of the Democratic administration when asked about the cost of production of farm crops is reported to have said that this was no time to investigate farm costs of production; that it was the farmer's business to produce and not bother his head about the cost. And throughout the war and since the farmer was frantically urged, by one crowd, to produce, while another crowd was using every device of market manipulation to hold down prices of farm products. Was that fair?

But, someone will say, we were in war, and the farmer should not complain about what it was necessary to do, even if they didn't do it to others.

Very well. Let us overlook what happened during the war. Let us wipe the slate clean up to the signing of the armistice. Let us consider what has happened to the farmer since the war ended.

"Produce To Limit."

The farmer had been urged to produce to the limit and had been assured that even if peace came, all he could grow would sell at profitable prices. Do you remember the price drive in January, 1919, within three months after the armistice had been signed?

Do you remember the more determined drive in July, 1919, when hogs dropped from $22.10 on July 15 to $14.50 on October 15, although pork products to the consumer dropped on an average less than 10 per cent? In June, 1920, hogs were selling at $5.50 less per hundred than in June, 1919, but retail ham prices were $3.00 per hundred higher. As a result of the government drive the producer received less and the consumer paid more. Who benefited?

And do you remember the government drive of the last three months, and what it has done to the prices of grains and livestock? Within two months the prospective value of the 1920 corn crop decreased three-fourths of a billion dollars. Great advertisements announced that the government proposed to cut down the cost of living by dumping on the market the millions of pounds of government surplus meat at bargain prices. Have you been making so much money on your cattle and hogs that you can afford further reductions in prices?

WHAT COULD WOODROW MEAN BY THIS?

Woodrow Wilson, he who wants the United States to join the League of Nations, he who, so 'tis said, is "at one" with Jimmy Cox, has sent a contribution to the Democratic campaign fund.

But that isn't all. He sent a letter with it.

In that letter he said something to the effect that Cox, if elected, would "re-establish this nation in her place among the nations."

But, Woodrow! You have already said that YOU established this country among the nations; that YOU kept it out of war; that YOU had saved its honor; that YOU did all the re-establishing that was necessary when you went to Paris.

Just another evidence of the small regard Woodrow has for the American people, the American right to self-determination, and the constitution itself.

DO YOU USE SUGAR?

Why are you paying more for it today than you ever paid before?

Here's the reason:

The Sugar Equalization Board was formed in 1918. There was a sugar shortage. The Board bought the unrefined Cuban sugar crop and made an agreement with the refiners and brokers. So the public—YOU—could buy sugar at 10 cents.

Next year (July, 1919) George A. Zabriskie, president of the board, told the Democratic Administration of another sugar shortage, and the Board passed resolutions urging the buying of the 1919 Cuban crop.

Only one lonely member said the Cuban sugar would sell cheap to you even if the Government didn't buy it in advance in bulk and hold it for you; but the Democratic Administration took that one man's advice against the advice of the other seven Board members and in spite of what had happened the year before.

Wouldn't Let You Have It.

In September, the president of the board sent another letter to President Wilson: "Please let us buy the Cuban sugar; we can get it cheap now (6½ cents a pound), and sell it cheap to the people; if we don't buy it, profiteers will get hold of the sugar and sell it dear."

He said he believed this Cuban purchase "was necessary to assure the people of the United States a regular supply of sugar at a reasonable price during 1920."

President Wilson, then a well man, didn't even answer him.

Who's To Blame?

In October, Senator McNary drew up a bill, which became a law, giving the Democratic Administration absolute power to buy the cheap Cuban sugar for you.

But the Democratic Administration wouldn't use that power to buy sugar for you at 6½ cents a pound.

Instead of pursuing such a course to protect you, through its Attorney-General, A. Mitchell Palmer, the Democratic Administration made a deal with the Louisiana sugar growers, Mr. Palmer promising he wouldn't call it profiteering if they charged you 17 and 18 cents a pound—AND THEY DID!

Herbert Hoover said:

The present high retail cost of sugar is 100 per cent in excess of what it would be had President Wilson and his cabinet heeded the advice of the Sugar Equalization Board."

You Pay!

So there you are. The Board told the Democratic Administration that profiteers would get hold of sugar and boost its price if the Democratic Administration would do what the board wanted it to do, and now the Democratic Administration can't stop the gouging.

In just this matter of sugar, the Democrats' neglect will cost the American people $1,500,000,000—more than running the whole Government for a whole year before the war.

WHO IS DODGING?

The people will draw their own conclusions on Governor Cox's talk about campaign funds. Pressed to go before the senatorial investigation committee, Governor Cox said:

"I do not see the need of my appearing before the committee. I am entitled to the privilege of giving the facts to the voters at such time and in the manner I SEE FIT."

Chairman Hays said, when informed of the senatorial investigation: "Splendid! That is exactly what we desire. We welcome fullest publicity now and later and as often as possible."

Quite a difference in the Republican and Democratic attitude toward publicity, isn't there?

185 audiences tried it this way

MOST people know that the musical enjoyment which they get out of a phonograph depends upon one thing. That thing is the phonograph's realism.

This picture shows the best way to test a phonograph's realism. Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, the famous soprano, is standing beside the New Edison, and singing in direct comparison with the New Edison's RE-CREATION of her voice.

185 audiences, aggregating more than 100,000 people, have actually heard this comparison. None could distinguish between her living voice and its RE-CREATION.

This is one of the phenomenal records of realism. The New Edison holds all other records of realism, too, because no other phonograph attempts this comparison-test—or could sustain it.

—the way we use in our store!—the Realism Test! Test the New Edison's Realism against the pleasure you know music can bring.

Tell us what kind of voice or instrument gives you truest musical enjoyment. Listen while we play your favorite on the New Edison. The Realism Test will enable you to gauge whether the New Edison's RE-CREATION gives you all of this enjoyment.

This is your test! It will help you determine what the New Edison's Realism means, in terms of your own musical enjoyment.

How Europe Can Draft YOUR Boy

Do you really know ArticleX. of the Wilson League of Nations? Here's what it says:

"The Members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all Members of the League. In case of any such aggression, the Council (of the League) shall advise upon the means by which the obligations shall be fulfilled." Isn't that a good thing—for somebody else?

Under that clause, nothing on earth could stop the League Council, which is to sit over there in Europe, from ordering American troops to any corner of the world. YOU wouldn't have a word to say about it—you women of the United States. No, nor the men of the United States, either. Nor the President. Nor Congress. Nobody but the League Council. And in the Council of the Wilson League AMERICA HAS ONLY ONE VOTE.

Democratic defenders of the Wilson League say that our Congress would have some voice in the matter. Well, you find the word "Congress," or mention of its approval of ANYTHING in the Wilson League Covenant—if you can!

Cox and the Democrats endorse the Wilson League. A vote for Cox is a vote for that.

SOLDIERS WELL REPRESENTED.

The soldiers are well-represented in the ticket which Kentucky Republicanism offers for Congress. In the First District, there is Miller Hughes, who saw extensive service in the World War. In the Second District, Erskine B. Bassett, who was an Army Major, is the Republican candidate. In the Eighth District, Captain King Swope, who saw a great deal of service during the late war, is a candidate for re-election. Congressman Charles F. Ogden, nominee for re-election in the Fifth District, was a captain in the Spanish-American War. It is an interesting fact that the Democrats, given an opportunity to nominate a soldier-candidate in the Eighth District, turned him down for a civilian.

DO WE WANT THIS?

No American man or woman—those toilers of the city and the field, those mothers and fathers who are the heart's blood of this nation—wants a Wilson League of Nations which would tie this country helplessly to European politics, and bind it to fight for the interests of any and every country, whose interests are not ours. These Americans were willing to give up their hard-earned money for Liberty Bonds, for war savings stamps, for war taxes, willing to do without sugar and wheat and meat and light and coal, willing to give up their sons. Willing to do anything that America's honor might be preserved. But that patriotism embraces only their own country.

LETTER TO THOMAS

JEFFERSON RECEIVED

The state department has received a letter from Bombay, India addressed to "Thomas Jefferson, late Secretary of State and Master of Patents." Information is asked on the process of feeding "patrol" (petrol) into an engine, and a personal reply from Jefferson is requested. The letter has been referred to President Wilson as a curiosity.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS SALES

A statement issued by the treasury department shows that approximately $1,168,200,000 has been invested in U. S. government war savings stamps by the public. About $360,000,000, or 25 per cent of the original sales, has been redeemed, which is considered by treasury officials a satisfactory showing.

DUCHESSES WORK AS MAIDS

Several archduchesses of the Hapsburg family in Switzerland, have become governesses and maids due to their financial straits. There are about 80 members of this family in the little republic and being now without income and having suffered further losses owing to the rate of exchange they are "broke." Many archdukes have entered business as clerks.

It was stated at Geneva that the jewels in Swiss banks belonging to the Romanoffs, Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns are worth about $315,000. They were deposited for safety. It was further said that the jewelry sold or pawned by those families in Switzerland since 1911 is worth double that sum.

CANDIDACY OF RICHARD P. ERNST GAINING POPULARITY OVER STATE

RICHARD P. ERNST.

In all the history of Kentucky, with few exceptions, a candidate for Senator has not met with public approval so great as that accorded during the past few weeks to Richard P. Ernst, Republican nominee for the office.

Those who may wonder why Mr. Ernst has appealed so strongly to every class of people in Kentucky will find the answer in the record and the personality of the man himself.

Richard P. Ernst has reached his present position in life largely through his own efforts and resourcefulness. Born and reared in Kentucky, he showed early in life a desire to know things, and his education started when he was very young.

In Front Rank.

Graduated from Center College with high honors, he became interested in law, and soon after he had developed this interest he was admitted to the bar. He has risen to the front rank in his profession.

Of interest to every Kentuckian who wants as his Senator a man who knows business conditions is the fact that Mr. Ernst, during his long and fruitful practice, has been enabled to study the needs and activities of every branch of trade in this state. He is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Liberty National Bank at Covington.

Mr. Ernst's civic activities have won for him the praise and the strong admiration of every home-loving Kentucky man and woman. He has given generously of his time and his money to every enterprise looking to the uplift and betterment of the people of this state.

Aids Education.

Education has long had his earnest attention and assistance, and he has devoted a great deal of effort to work of this kind in the Kentucky mountain regions. Every character of religious work has received substantial help from him. He has been elected time after time President of the Covington Y. M. C. A. and the Industrial Club. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky, and serves in the same capacity at Center College and Pikeville College.

During the war Mr. Ernst was constantly active in war work, giving unsparingly of his time and of his money. His son, William Ernst, was a private on the Mexican border, and saw active service at the front in France.

Mr. Ernst, by his whole record, is seen to be a man of the people. Kentucky is certain to take recognition of his splendid life and work by electing him as her United States Senator.

SOME MEN WHO WOULD DARE TO DIFFER WITH WILSON-COX LEAGUE

The question in the minds of Americans who believe in the men who made this country the great Republic that it is today, is this:

Is Woodrow Wilson a wiser man than George Washington and Abraham Lincoln and James Monroe and all the illustrious leaders of our country's past?

It is true that Woodrow Wilson already has tried to force his every view, his every idea or thought, upon the American people. It is true that he has made up his own mind about internal and international policies without ever consulting the American people or their representatives in Congress.

But if Woodrow Wilson DOES think that the American people are not to be counted as material when he attempts to shape this country's policies, he will have to work hard to convince them that the policies of Washington and Lincoln are not acceptable in this day. Washington said in his time:

FRANKLIN D. HAS NO CHANCE WITH WOMEN

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who was placed upon the Democratic ticket to neutralize the unpleasant impression sure to be made upon American women by a Presidential candidate selected by the French Lick oligarchy, has started the country by a malediction confession that destroys all chance the Democrats may have had of winning the woman vote. Briefly, he states that President Wilson "put it over" Lloyd George by disguising or concealing the fact that in the League of Nations the United States could always out-vote England by controlling the votes of the Central and South American Republics.

Roosevelt points out that Uncle Sam, as Big Brother to Hayti, Panama, Cuba, and other republics to the South of us gave John Bull a gold brick and has reason to feel pleased with himself as a clever and successful swindler.

The Democracy is hardly to be congratulated upon the choice it made of a tail to its ticket. If F. D. Roosevelt's mission as a candidate was to attract the women of this country to his party, he seems likely to become the greatest failure at which Boss Murphy ever winked.

Four years ago a large number of our altruistic American women were drawn toward Wilson through motives which did them credit, despite the fact that soon after Election Day their trust was betrayed. But there is not the slightest possibility that these same women will this year be attracted by the Democratic ticket.

NATIVES OF HAITI RULED BY U. S. GUNS

Army Officer Shocked He Says To Know Duty So Badly Performed.

Washington, Oct. 13.—"Practically indiscriminate killing of Haiti natives has gone on for some time. I was shocked beyond expression to hear of such things and to know that it was at all possible that duty could possibly be so badly performed by marines of any class."

This statement, contained in a confidential letter from Brig. Gen. Barnett to Col. John H. Russell, commanding the American marines in Haiti, was made public in connection with a report by the general to Secretary of the Navy Daniels today. The report showed that since the American occupation of Haiti 3,250 "armed Haitian bandits" have been killed by the marines. The American casualties were one officer and twelve enlisted men killed and two officers and twenty-six enlisted men wounded.

General Barnett's report, it was stated by Republicans here tonight, completely verified the charges made against the Democratic administration by Senator Harding at Marion on September 17, and which were denied and bitterly resented by Secretary Daniels and Assistant Secretary Roosevelt. Senator Harding said:

Warring On Helpless.

"We are at war with the helpless little republic of our own hemisphere. These wars are waged thru the usurpation by the executive of power not only never bestowed upon him, but scrupulously withheld by the Constitution."

"Thousands of brave Haitians have been killed by American marines. Too many of our own gallant men have sacrificed their lives at the behest of the executive department in order to establish laws drafted by an assistant secretary of the navy, to secure a vote in the league and continue at the point of the bayonet a military domination which at this moment requires the presence of no less than 3,000 armed men on that foreign soil."

General Barnett states that in spite of instructions from a superior officer of the Marine Corps, Colonel Russell forwarded a report on conditions in Haiti to him (General Barnett) on March 20, 1920. Up to the time Barnett left Washington for a tour of inspection on the Pacific coast May 3, the report had not been received by him.

"Very shortly after my return," says the general in his report, "I was relieved as commandant of the Marine Corps."

General Barnett's letter to Colonel Russell was the result of evidence brought out at a trial by court-martial of two privates in the Marine Corps, charged with the illegal execution of captive Haitian bandits.

The argument for the defense was made by Lieut. J. L. Speer. Even after reading it, General Barnett wrote: "I know that you will take this matter up most seriously and I can not too strongly urge upon you the necessity of going into it personally and thoroughly."

Barnett Orders Trial.

"I want personal instructions sent to every officer and noncommissioned officer both with the marine gendarmerie (native constabulary), that conditions as shown by the evidence in the trial of the private above referred to must be corrected, and that such action can not be tolerated for a moment. I want every case thoroughly sifted and the guilty parties brought to trial. I don't want anything of the kind to happen again."

The letter was written in October, 1919, it was revealed today.

Colonel Russell at once made the investigation as ordered, General Barnett declared in his special report to Secretary Daniels.

The correspondence further reveals that at the request of Colonel Russell the testimony of Marine Corps officers who had served in Haiti but were then in the United States was forwarded to him.

General Barnett also informed Colonel Russell that he had ordered the return to Haiti of "such people as may seem necessary."

Colonel Russell's report, together with all the evidence he obtained, was forwarded to the department on March 20, but General Barnett states was not received by him up to the time he was succeeded as commandant of the corps by Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune on June 30.

NEW CHEMISTRY OFFICE HAS BEEN CREATED

In order to develop the commercial possibilities of new methods discovered in the bureau of chemistry, of the agricultural department, a trained force of engineers has been assigned to this special work. It is said that because of a mere theoretical presentment of their discoveries in the past many valuable opportunities involving the recovery of products from factory waste etc., have been lost. The new office will "act as a go-between from science to industry," and it is expected that millions of dollars will be saved for the American people through its creation.
